You've Got a Friend

Dear Readers,

Albert Einstein said: "Setting an example is not the main means of influencing another, it is the only means." At Shepherd's Kids we invite children to be friends with each other and promise that we will be their friend. Being a good friend is how we are good examples.

Being friends—a childhood notion? Sure. But it also is the reality of how God is with us. God is that friend who can be trusted. The psalmist says, "The steadfast love of the Lord endures forever." You've got a friend!

Blessings,
